PRIMARY BILL IN

Important bills will require an unknown amount of time.

Grist of the Week.
As foretold last week the house killed the taxation bill by a vote of 54 nay and 66 yeas.

On Wednesday the senate passed the Perry Referendum Prohibition bill to its third reading by a yeas and nays vote of 20 to eight and on Thursday passed the bill by practically the same vote. The bill was signed by Governor Gates on Friday and the men with which he signed the measure was presented to Rev. W. A. Smith of the Vermont Anti-Saloon League. Gov. Gates has also signed the joint resolution accepting the gift of Speedwell Farms from T. N. Vail.

Workmen's Compensation.

When the senate took up the workmen's compensation bill on Wednesday several important amendments were made. They cut out the exemption of farm laborers; made the act apply to persons employing more than five persons; changed burial benefit from $100 to $75; provided that beneficiary who is alien shall receive only half compensation; changed salary of two assistant commissioners to $1500 instead of $2000; made salary of secretary $1200; provided in case employer wishes to buy liability insurance that may assess and collect one-half the cost on employees under regulations prescribed by the board.

As amended the bill was passed Thursday and sent to the house. It has been referred to the judiciary committee and it is expected considerable opposition will appear when it gets before the house.

The house killed H120, extending powers state factory inspector and H201, exempting all personal property from taxation, also H422, incorporating village South Shaftsbury.

Drastic Eugenic Bill.

H440, from committee on public health was introduced as a substitute for eugenic marriage bill. It forbids marriage of persons infected with the venereal disease, imposing a fine of $500 or two years in prison. Physicians shall report such cases to state board of health which is empowered to establish quarantine, with penalty of fine not to exceed $400 for failure to report.

Thursday's Proceedings.

The feature Thursday forenoon was short address by Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A. retired, who made a plea for a state appropriation for the Perry Memorial at Put-in-Bay on Lake Erie.

In the afternoon Hugh Henry, the present commissioner of weights and measures, appeared before the house committee of the whole and defended the work of that department so the house by a vote of 121 to 98 refused to pass the bill abolishing the department. On Saturday however resolution was introduced limiting the expenses of his department to $6,000 a year which is less than half that the department has been costing and this is still to be acted on.

Massive Corporation Act.

The long-looked for general corporation act made its appearance in the senate, being introduced by Senator Shaw from the committee on corporations in the form of six bills under the title of private corporations, public corporations other than railroads, savings banks and trust companies, insurance corporations, foreign corporations, fees payable by incorporators, corporations and associations.

The six acts constitute a document of approximately 14,000 words. A hearing on this bill is to be held Thursday and it will be taken up as special order in the senate Friday. Appropriations Asked Too Large.

Friday Redfield Proctor, chairman of the committee on appropriations presented figures to show that the state was facing a deficit of $85,000 less pending bills carrying additional or increased cost are trimmed to correspond with the expected revenue.

This anticipated deficit is calculated after considering the possible increase in revenue and the proceeds of state tax of 10 cents. The following statement covers now appropriations and increases in standing appropriations and cover the biennial term:

The Budget Figures.
Agriculture and Forestry...	20,000
Vail School...	40,000
Randolph School (new)...	15,000
Randolph, Castleton and Johnson Schools (for support)...	16,000

Medical School...	23,000
Highways, Bridge...	86,000
Home Feels-minded...	100,000
Agriculture (Smith-Dever)...	16,000
Support Government...	8,000
Miscellaneous (small)...	13,000
New Appropriation (passed)...	9,645
Total...	$366,645

Possible increase in income (estimated) $40,000.
Balance to provide for $326,645.
State tax of 10 cents, $241,000.
Balance remaining unprovided for $85,645.

WITH THE MOVIES

Story's Pleasure U Theatre.
Mr. and Mrs. Story find that the people of St. Johnsbury like comedy the best of anything at the moving picture entertainments and in keeping with the title of their theatre have decided to give their patrons some of the very best comedy that is being presented on the American stage. They have made a special engagement with the Knox Brothers Comedy Co. for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The brothers are very highly recommended and you can get a high-class laugh at Story's the three last days of this week. For three days next week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Dr. McDonald Company will be the attraction. Every afternoon from now on a patron can get a regular 15-cent exhibition for ten or five cents. The program for the week follows:

Wednesday—"The last episode of 'The Trey O'Hearts.' You will want to see how this comes out."

Thursday—"The Sheriff of Muscatine," a two part K. B. drama, "The Whiskey Runners and Ups and Downs," a Keystone comedy.

Friday—"The Master Key" and four reels in comedy.

Saturday—"Zudora," the $20,000 Mystery, and comedy.

Monday—"The new comedy special."

Tuesday—"The latest war pictures and all the recent current events thrown upon the curtain and the comedy."
